Meeting Length/Direction

Food Policy Council would like to incorporate a Green Roof initiative within the City to use accessible rooftops as an agricultural area. The use of the roof tops would incorporate raised garden beds that can promote the growth of the bee population by planting native flowers. The project will also promote mental health awareness by providing individuals with a location to sit, meditate, and separate themselves from stressors. The idea is currently in the discussion phase where members are reaching out to local organizations and asking for input on how the idea can be done.
