Mr. Schroeder added this will be exclusive to residents in Bridgeport and those in the re-entry population will be prioritized. They will have a pathway of employment after completing the training.

Council member McBride-Lee asked how they would promote the program.

Mr. Schroeder replied they would be working with the city channels, the mayor's re-entry program, and the city council.

Council President Nieves raised concerns regarding training to employment, she believes all this information should be tracked and suggest they get into the street to advertise for the program.

Mr. Schroeder added they will be providing transportation, childcare, and food for the trainees. He said they can build community engagement to connect with the residents in their local areas further than by calling them to informational meetings.

Council member Burns said there are many organizations in support of the program and businesses want to set up in the city but we need to help supply the workforce.

Council member Ortiz added he approved the item at the last meeting but has changed his mind due to the list of members they shared and with her personal experience with training, he couldn't find a job because the need wasn't in the city at the time.

Mr. Schroeder replied there is an urgency to work on climate change and being a greener city. The certificates are owned by the trainee and can find work anymore they please. The program will be creating a pathway to employment so after they graduate there will be jobs lined up for them.

Council member McBride-Lee suggested they should extend the start back just in case people fail to show up they can substitute their space.

Mr. Katz replied they can request budget revisions.

Council President Nieves asked if the residents need to native born or can people apply with work authorizations.

Mr. Katz replied that the goal is to include everyone.

Council President Nieves said the senior population is growing and asked why the grant was reduced.

Ms. Acevedo replied she goes to all of the senior centers in Bridgeport along with home visits.
